Movement IX · The Dividing Notions, One by One

Powerful in the Scriptures

The series question: "And who is my neighbor?" (Luke 10:29)

ACTS 18:24 But a certain Jew, Apollos by name, an Alexandrian by people, an eloquent man, came into Ephesus, being powerful in the Scriptures.

25 This one having been taught by mouth in the way of the Lord, and glowing in spirit, he spoke and taught accurately the things about the Lord, understanding only the baptism of John.

26 And this one began to speak boldly in the synagogue. And hearing him Priscilla and Aquila took him and more accurately expounded the way of God to him.

27 And he having intended to go through into Achaia, having been encouraged, the brothers wrote to the disciples to welcome him; who, arriving, helped much the ones who were believing through grace.

28 For he powerfully confuted the Jews publicly, proving through the Scriptures Jesus to be the Christ.

READ ALONG: Acts 18:24–28; Galatians 2:11–14; 2 Samuel 12:1–13

Follow along

1. How does Acts describe Apollos's gifts?

2. What was missing in his understanding, and who supplied it?

3. What happened to his ministry after he was corrected?

4. What do Apollos, Peter and David have in common?

5. Which teacher shaped how you read Scripture most?

6. What happens to a group when its teacher can't be questioned?

7. If your favorite teacher was wrong on one point, how would you want to find out?

THE ONE QUESTION

What makes a teacher great: never being wrong, or saying so?

- 1. When did you last say "I was wrong" about something in Scripture?
- 2. Whose correction would you refuse because of who they are?

The empty chair. Every week one chair at our table stays empty. It is for the person you would never invite.
