Be Mindful of the Prisoners

*addiction and a prison record*The series question: "And who is my neighbor?" (Luke 10:29)

HEBREWS 13:3 Be mindful of the prisoners, as having been bound with them; of the ones ill-treated, as also being in the body yourselves.

READ ALONG: Hebrews 13:3; Matthew 25:34–40; Luke 23:39–43; 1 Corinthians 6:11

Follow along

1. What did the second criminal say to the first, and then to Jesus?

2. What did Jesus promise him?

3. Whom does the King identify with in Matthew 25:36?

4. What does "some were these things" tell the Corinthians about their own past?

5. How has addiction or prison touched your family or friends?

6. What happens to people coming out of prison or addiction when they try to join an assembly?

7. What part of your past would you not want read aloud in this room?

THE ONE QUESTION

Whom have you never forgiven for a record already paid?

- 1. Who is "bound" right now whom you could remember this week?
- 2. What were you washed from?

The empty chair. Every week one chair at our table stays empty. It is for the person you would never invite.
