What Is It to Me to Judge the Ones Outside?

*sexuality debates*The series question: "And who is my neighbor?" (Luke 10:29)

GENESIS 1:27 And God created the man in His own image; in the image of God He created him. He created them male and female.

READ ALONG: Genesis 1:27; Luke 7:36–50; 1 Corinthians 5:12–13

Follow along

1. What did Simon think when the woman came in?

2. What story did Jesus tell him, and what was the point?

3. How did Jesus treat the woman, and what did he say to her?

4. What does Paul say about judging those outside?

5. How has this question touched your family or friends?

6. When has the way this subject is discussed made it hard for someone to stay at the table?

7. Whatever your conviction, what would it take for someone on the other side of this question to feel safe sitting next to you?

THE ONE QUESTION

Do you see the person, or only the question?

- 1. Who in your life has stopped talking to you about who they are, and why?
- 2. What would it look like to treat someone this week as image-bearer first?

The empty chair. Every week one chair at our table stays empty. It is for the person you would never invite.
